Projects

Nanny Dunkelheit-

Nanny Dunkelheit is an interactive storytelling experience. The site uses the Facebook API to connect the user to the studio and allows them to either share their experience with the developers or with their friends. The following was used in the development: Javascript, SCSS, Flexbox, HTML5, Facebook API, Magic Scroll.

Pocket Chef-

Pocket Chef is a web app that allows a user to generate, edit, and save a grocery list from an online recipe. The app uses the Edamam API. This project is still on-going as I am adding features for search preferences and recipe instructions. The following is being used in the development: Javascript, SCSS, HTML5, Edamam API, Ruby on Rails, HTTParty Gem, SQLite3.

Experience

Production Manager New York

New York, NY 07/16 - 12/16

BlueSoho/QuadGraphics— Coordinated over 300 Victoria Secret digital assets daily between local and international satellite offices. Worked intimately with retouching teams to reach project milestones and ensure client satisfaction. I relayed client vision to retouching team while managing client expectations.

Production Manager New York, NY 07/15 - 07/16 UrbanStudios – Managed print and digital assets for 25 high fashion retail brands such as David Yurman, DVF, Tory Birch, and Polo.

Developed milestones and determined project resources required for both production and retouching teams. I reviewed all final assets before client delivery.

Office Administrator

New York, NY 01/14 – 07/15

Sherborne Investors — Provided assistance to the CEO, CTO, and

CFO. Point of contact for all investment clientele and financial press.

Proof read press statements and presentations. Prepared and documented national and international expense reports.

Replenished and secured office supplies and general office maintenance.

Events Manager East Hampton, NY 05/12 - 11/13

Main Beach — I planned and organized sponsored sporting events with local hotels and sports clubs. Hired and vetted watersport instructors. Transformed the client services/registration practices and increased department's profit by 30%.
